Grand Jury Calls for Flynn Syndicate Papers.

A Subpoena Was Necessary to Get Them from the County Clerk.

The Grand Jury of Kings County this morning obtained new evidence in the alleged fraud perpetrated by the "Cold Thirteen" of the Brooklyn Board of Aldermen, in granting franchises to the Kings County and Nassau Electric Railroad companies.

The new evidence was obtained after examining the incorporation papers of the P. H. Flynn syndicate. The papers show that practically the syndicate is no more in existence, as far as plan is concerned, than the Union Street Railway Company, whose bid was rejected.

The Aldermen, in granting the franchises to Flynn, pointed out that the Union Street people did not have a plant, and that the corporation was only a paper.

There was a lively scene about the District Attorney's office this morning when the foreman of the Grand Jury called for the papers of incorporation which the Flynn syndicate had filed with County Clerk Cottler last week.

District Attorney Ridgway sent to the County Clerk's office the papers of the Flynn syndicate, and a reply came back that there were no such papers in the office.

Mr. Ridgway then, and sent for the County Clerk. He was out of town, as were the two deputies.

Mr. Ridgway then said he would have an attachment issued against the office. A subpoena was issued for Chief Clerk Frank L. Barnard, who appeared before the Grand Jury with the required papers.

All morning politicians were about the District Attorney's office and in the corridors of the Court House, discussing the matter before the Grand Jury.

They evinced considerable anxiety over the course of inquiry which the Grand Jury is pursuing, although it is not generally thought that the Aldermen and Mayor Hylan will be indicted.

The subpoena is that when the Grand Jury appears before Judge Moore in the Court of Sessions to-morrow morning, it will make a presentment concerning the Aldermen in strong language for the granting of franchises to the Flynn syndicate.

It was said this morning that several subpoenas had been issued for prominent politicians, and that Mr. Flynn's testimony would close the investigation.

FLYING TO PENNSYLVANIA.

Homing Pigeons Released from the Pulitzer Building Dome.

Mr. J. H. Taylor, of Westchester, Pa., who is an enthusiast on the subject of homing pigeons, and who for the pleasure there is in it always keeps a large number on hand, is training several for the championing of giving away prizes at the World's Fair in September.

He sent two pairs on this city today, and let them fly from the dome on top of the Pulitzer Building.

The first pair were let go at 11:42 in presence of a large number of people, and the birds lost no time in heading for the Pennsylvania farm, Southwicksburg, N. J., where they were to be released in the right direction, and were soon lost to sight.

The second pair were not so fortunate. Leaving the dome five minutes later, they were seen to fly in a westerly direction until they were joined by another pair that had evidently been released in the same direction. The quartet remained together for several minutes, skirting the tops of the buildings, then they disappeared.

Mr. Taylor's pair started homeward.

The distance to Westchester, Pa., is about 140 miles, and he is expected to reach their destination about 12:30 o'clock.

LOOKS LIKE AN ELOPEMENT.

Mrs. Adelbaum and Mr. Newbaum Reported Missing.

The police of the Herbert street station, Williamsburg, are to-day engaged in a search for Mrs. Rachael Adelbaum, who disappeared from her husband's home, 24 Skillman avenue, on Monday last.

Adelbaum believes that his wife eloped with one Ansel Newbaum, a clothing cutter. Newbaum has figured as a friend of the family for several years, and of late, so the husband says, Newbaum has had more to say about the house than he did.

On Monday, when the woman disappeared, she took all her clothing with her. The husband hunted all around the neighborhood without success, and did not report the case to the police until last night.

On this morning, Newbaum disappeared on the same day and at about the same time that his wife did.

CAPT. CHRISTOFFEL MARRIED.

Miss Isabella Pasco, the Lieutenant's Daughter, His Bride.

John D. Christoffel, Jr., who resigned the Captaincy of Company D, to become Armorer of the Forty-seventh Regiment, was married to-day to Miss Isabella Pasco, daughter of Lieut. Pasco, of the Second Battery.

The ceremony took place this morning at Lieut. Pasco's home, 188 West Ninety-eighth street, and was performed by Dr. Bethune. After the ceremony the happy couple returned to their home in Williamsburg.

Capt. Christoffel is quite a favorite in the regiment, but he decided to get married, and to leave the regiment, and to be in camp, and to escape any tricks that might be played upon him.

He is now in the Second Regiment, and is in camp, and to escape any tricks that might be played upon him.

GIDEON PEARSELL'S WILL FILED.

Disappearance of Charles E. Explained in an Affidavit.

Mrs. Elizabeth Persall, of 74 Weirfield street, Brooklyn, to-day filed with Surrogate Abbott, in Brooklyn, a petition for the probate of the will of her husband, Gideon Persall, who died June 2.

The estate is valued at $5,000 and is left to the widow, a son, Charles H. Persall, and two grandchildren. An affidavit made by Lucy C. Persall, the wife of Charles H. Persall, in which she declares that he has disappeared, is filed. She says that he left her in September, 1933, and has not been seen since.

She has not heard from him directly since June 1933, when he was employed at West Fulton, Ill. He left Illinois last January, and has disappeared.

GLEASON VISITS THIS CITY.

He Says He Will Be Mayor of Long Island City in Two Years.

Ex-Mayor Patrick Gleason, of Long Island City, came over to this city to-day and called at the City Hall and the Stewart Building on business.

"I am going to be a candidate for Senator this Fall to succeed Charles F. Johnson, and I will be drawing salary as Mayor of Long Island City for two years."

"I take the salary, too. I won't be a demagogue, stand silently by and see the big salary paid to the Mayor of Long Island City, and then play the great game by refusing an increase of $50,000."

Mrs. Hanna, She Says, Is Her Very Dear Friend.

She Met the Judge at the Widow's by Agreement.

The story that ex-Judge Massey, of Brooklyn, had discarded the affections of his wife and family, and for the past year had been surreptitiously visiting Mrs. Augusta Hanna, a widow, living at 1068 Seventh avenue, caused considerable gossip among society people in the City of Churches this morning.

The story recalled to the minds of the "smart set" the well known fact that the Judge's daughter, which was one of the society events of the season last year.

Until that time, it is said, Judge Massey had lived apart from his wife, but the marriage of their daughter brought the couple together.

Judge Massey has been a victim of rheumatism for the past four years, and during that period has been confined to his bed at a time.

For this reason the friends of Judge Massey are inclined to discredit the story that he had been surreptitiously visiting Mrs. Hanna.

When an "Evening World" reporter called at the Massey residence, 123 West 106th street, Brooklyn, this morning, Mrs. Massey said:

"There is absolutely no truth whatever in the story that Judge Massey ever visited the society of Mrs. Hanna to see her wife and family."

"Judge Massey never ordered five pairs of shoes to be made for me."

"I met Mrs. Hanna four years ago. I saw her a week ago and told her where to get a good bargain in shoes."

"Here are the five pairs of shoes which are said to have caused all the trouble."

Mrs. Massey then produced the shoes, which were said to have been ordered by Judge Massey for his wife and family.

Henry Hirsch Gets a Divorce and the Custody of His Children.

Henry Hirsch brought suit in the City Court, for a separation from his wife Annie, in Court to-day. He told Judge Van Wyck that his wife had pawned the carpet off the floor and had gone to the city to get a drink.

He also told the judge that he had gone home and found his clothing missing. Judge Van Wyck granted a divorce, and gave him the custody of their children.

STABBED HIS CUSTOMER.

James Cruser, 18, Wouldn't Pay Peter Restino, 11, for Candy.

Eleven-year-old Peter Restino, of 93 Washington street, Brooklyn, was to-day placed in charge of the Children's Society by Justice Walsh, in the Adams Street Police Court, for stabbing James Cruser, thirteen years old, of 66 Washington street, for not paying for candy.

Cruser's father gave a candy stand at Fulton and Front streets. Cruser was in charge of the stand, and refused to pay for the candy. The Italian boy then stabbed the little fellow in the right arm.

MRS. ALDER'S COUSIN.

She or He Has the Furniture Bought on the Installment Plan.

Mrs. Minnie Alder, of 53 Warren street, Brooklyn, was held by Justice Walsh, in the Adams Street Police Court this morning, charged with selling furniture valued at $50 on which J. J. Pearson, of Myrtle avenue, held a chattel mortgage.

Mrs. Alder bought the furniture on the installment plan, and admits that she sold it to her cousin.

Mrs. Alder refused to give her cousin a receipt for the furniture, and her cousin had promised to pay for the furniture.

YOUNG MCKENZIE SENTENCED.

Judge Fitzsimmons Sends Him to the Elmira Reformatory.

George McKenzie, the boy who was convicted June 10 of manslaughter in the second degree, was called to the bar of Part II of General Sessions for sentence to-day.

Judge Fitzsimmons sent him to the Elmira Reformatory.

On June 10, 1932, Henry Quill, a boy who was his own age, disappeared. Three months after he disappeared, his body was found at the bottom of the airshaft at 53 Morris street.

The detectives discovered that young McKenzie had been on the roof with Quill on the day that he disappeared.

When McKenzie was arrested he acknowledged that he had been there and had had a quarrel with Quill.

He admitted that he had a fight and that he struck Quill and the latter fell down the airshaft.

Quill had been stabbed McKenzie twice with his pocket-knife.

POLLOCK MUST SHOW CAUSE.

Stay of Execution of the Big Judgment May Be Vacated.

Lawyer Seymour, the associate of Col. E. C. James, counsel for Mrs. Ellen Pollock, who secured a judgment of $39,000 against her father-in-law, Alex. Pollock, for alienating the affections of her husband, Edward E. Pollock, and when Edward E. Pollock, of the Court of Common Pleas, to-day an order requiring Pollock, to show cause why the stay of execution of that judgment should not be vacated.

Alexander Pollock's mortgage was undoubtedly caused this move.

Argument may be heard on Monday next.

Weather Forecast.

Local forecast for the thirty-six hours ending at 8 P. M. Friday: Fair; slightly warmer; westerly winds.

Alleged Murderer of Bertie Wagner Up for Extradition.

Lawyer Wilkin Rates Fine Points as to Age and Identity.

Louis Wood, aged eleven, the alleged murderer of Bertie Wagner, of Freehold, N. J., was brought before Justice Bartlett, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, this morning, on extradition proceedings. The matter was again adjourned until Saturday morning to weigh carefully all the facts in the case.

It is hoped that Lawyer Foster L. Backus, who has been retained to defend the boy will return from St. Lawrence County by that time to look out for his client's interests.

When the boy was brought before Justice Bartlett on Tuesday morning last Robert J. Wilkin, of the Brooklyn Children's Society, was appointed to look after the rights of the boy.

POISON IN FOOD AND WATER.

Only Her Youth Saved Her from Being Lynched.

Residents in the vicinity of Hamilton Park, Jersey City, where a gang of robbers have operated extensively of late, were aroused at 1:30 o'clock this morning by the rapid discharge of firearms and the sound of running footsteps.

Capt. Kelly, of the Second Precinct, and Policemen Donovan and McDuck were in pursuit of a thief who had burglarized the residence of ex-Sheriff Cornelius J. Cronan, at 64 Jersey avenue.

Mr. Cronan and wife had been in New York and retired shortly after midnight. They had been out for a short time when Mrs. Cronan was awakened by a slight noise in the room. She awakened her husband, who sprang out of bed in time to see a man passing out of the door. He looked for his trousers, which had been left on a chair, but they were gone.

Mrs. Cronan gave an alarm from the window, and as the ex-sheriff ran down to the front door he met Policemen Donovan, who had responded to the call.

A minute later Policeman McDuck who was in citizen's dress, saw a man scaling the high fence of Mrs. Cronan's house on Eighth street, corner of Jersey avenue.

The man darted off across Hamilton Park, followed by the police. The thief wheeled and fired a couple of shots at his pursuers, and then ran down to the front door. Kelly and Policemen Donovan joined in the chase and opened fire on the fugitive, but failed to capture him.

Finally the burglar dodged into the alleyway at the rear of the Hamilton place, where he was captured without further resistance.

At the station-house he gave his name as John Doe, a machinist, but refused to state where he lived or to give further information. He was held in the holding cell, with which he had effected an entrance to Mr. Cronan's house by prying open a rear door.

He was this morning arraigned before Justice O'Donnell, and remanded to await further investigation.

The police have no doubt that the prisoner is one of a gang which has been operating extensively of late in the vicinity of Hamilton Park.

FOUR JURORS DISMISSED.

Punished for Having Communication Pending a Verdict.

In the Hudson County Court to-day the jurymen in the case of Edward Foley, one of the gang which stole $20,000 worth of tobacco from the Netherlands steamship dock, were called up for contempt of Court.

It had been reported that while the jury was deliberating on a verdict yesterday afternoon, whiskey and refreshments had been passed up to them by an outsider. An investigation showed that only sandwiches had been passed up to three of the jurors by George Scharfenberg.

Judge O'Donnell told the jurymen that they were guilty of contempt of Court and that they were being punished for having communication with a person outside.

He then dismissed from further service the jurymen who had been guilty of the offense.
